

JUNIOR PHILHARMONIC SEEKS NEW MUSICIANS

The California Junior Philharmonic Orchestra announces that in anticipation of the forthcoming State-wide civic celebration planned to commemorate the 24th birthday of this plebeian group, Founder-Conductor Ernest H. Katz will personally supervise the semi-annual auditions for memberships in the orchestra for all teen-age musicians from the greater Torrance area beginning today and continuing for two weeks through March 29th.

Boys and girls, between the ages of 12 and 19, residing in this area and playing violins, violas, cellos, basses, flutes, oboes, clarinets, alto saxes, bassoons, trumpets, trombones, French horns, tubas, drums, tympani and harps are invited to participate.

THE CALIFORNIA Junior Philharmonic Orchestra whose slogan is "Give Youth A Chance To Be Heard," is a non-commercial civic all - youth project founded on Jan. 22nd, 1937, with a nucleus of four boys.

Today it boasts a roster of 100 talented boys and girls representing over 30 cities in Southern California.

There is no audition fee or membership charge for joining.

[this outstanding musical ag- MANY SECTIONS of the orchestra will be doubled and all instrumentalists trying - out for the group will be given every consideration in selecting first-chair players.

"During these try - outs we are making a special call for young people playing French horns and violins and we especially urge teen - agers who play these instruments to audition at this time" said Conductor Katz.

With over 500 concerts in behalf of civic and charitable causes to its credit the Symphony is now in the midst of its 24th Anniversary Year. It has been the recipient of many national and international citations of merit and holds 11 special commendations from the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors. Among its many appearances have been concerts in the Shrine Auditorium, the Philharmonic, Greek Theatre and the Hollywood Bowl.
